Congress.

Both Houses of Congress have adjourned over from Friday last until Tuesday, (tomorrow,) so that we shall have no more Congressional proceedings to report until Wednesday morning. The impression is general at Washington that an organization will be effected during the present week.

Reception of Senator Seward.

Senator SEWARD met with a most cordial and gratifying reception from the people of New York, on his return from Europe, last week. In the city of New York and all along the line of the Central Rail Road, crowds flocked to see and welcome him, and to renew the expressions of their entire confidence in his wisdom, patriotism and Statesmanship.

Another "Nut" for Union-Savers.

The Southern Confederacy, published at Atlanta, Georgia, indulges in the following "national" talk:

> Douglas has abolitionized the North wing of the Democratic party, to secure a united support of that section for the Presidency.
> The South will never support him, though he was the nominee of forty Charleston Conventions.
> And although Mr. Hickman declares that the South shall never dissolve the Union by a division of Territory; yet, division or no division, we are resolved, in the event of the election of a Black Republican President, (and Judge Douglas is equally as offensive as Seward,) to make the attempt. And if we fail, it will be when fifteen millions of Yankees welter in their gore, and when there is not left a son of our clime to lead us to the banquet, and cry "havock to ye rebel cowards."

The Union-Saving Committee in New York get a straight-jacket forthwith for the use of this truculent Democrat. Else woe to the "fifteen millions of Yankees!"

SPEECH OF VICE-PRESIDENT BRECKINRIDGE UPON HIS ELECTION AS U. S. SENATOR.—In the speech of Vice-President BRECKINRIDGE before the members of the Legislature at Frankfort, Ky., after his election as U. S. Senator, he stood up square upon the Dred Scott case, that Congress cannot interdict Slavery in the Territories. He did not believe in the authority of territorial legislatures to do by indirection what they cannot lawfully do directly. He denied the right of a territorial legislature to interfere with the rights of property, pending the territorial condition, whether it be slaves or other property, brought into the territory.—In short, Mr. BRECKINRIDGE agrees with Mr. BUCHANAN, in his views of the Dred Scott decision and dissents in toto from the doctrines advanced by Mr. DOUGLAS. Of course, the authoritative exposition of the Democratic President and Vice-President, on this point, must be received as the orthodox doctrine of the Democratic party.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE COUNTRY.—The New York Herald, having analyzed the Report of the Secretary of the Treasury, presents the following as a bird's-eye view of the financial condition of the country:

COLLINS, [illegible] on Friday last. The [illegible] saved and Mr. C. had an insurance of [illegible] on the building. The weather was so cold that the firemen could do very little towards checking the flames. The family of Mr. COLLINS were preparing for a large party in the evening.

MR. REMBRANDT PEALE, the venerable and distinguished artist, whose portrait of Washington, painted from life, and the great picture of the "Court of Death," are well known, is lying ill at Stonington, Conn., where he stopped on his way home from a visit to Boston.

SWEET PEAS, taken from the bosom of an Egyptian mummy 3,900 years old, were presented to a society in New York, the other day, by Professor MORSE, with a statement that several of them had been planted last summer, and had vegetated.

THE IMPORTS at New Orleans for eleven months of the present year has been $17,000,000, against $15,750,000 for the corresponding period of 1858. The exports for eleven months foot up $88,250,000, against $90,750,000 for 1858.

PERSONAL.—Mr. JACOB SIEBOLD one of the oldest and most respectable cizens of Buffalo was thrown from his sleigh a few days ago, and severely if not dangerously injured.

MURDER.—The St. Louis papers chronicle a horrible murder of one Mr. BURKE, a farmer, who was coming to town to pay his taxes when he was set upon, his skull broken in with an axe and his pockets rifled.

FOR THE WEST.—About fifty boys and girls from the Children's Aid Society left New York on Tuesday afternoon, under the care of Mr. H. Friedgen. The Newsboys' Lodging House furnished out a fair number of these emigrants: they were well fitted out by the Society, and looked as happy as good prospects for the future could make them.—N. Y. Express.

MR. BOYER has arrived in this city, and will lecture on the "Abolition of the Gallows," some time during the coming week. It will be remembered that Mr. B. was the Senator who led the opposition to the "gallows" in Wisconsin, and conducted the contest to a successful termination.—Buffalo Republic, Dec. 29.

THE CITY.

New Year's Holiday.

As the New Year Holiday is to be observed to-day, no paper will be issued from the Sentinel office to-morrow morning.

Carrier's Address.

Our Carriers will wait upon the patrons of the Sentinel, this morning, with an Address of more than usual merit, copies of which they will be glad to exchange for dimes, or quarters.

Happy New Year.

Eighteen Hundred and fifty nine breathed its last on Saturday night. The demise was not unexpected, and amid the wail of the wintry winds and the snow-muffled tread of some out-door watcher, the bells of old St. Paul knelled the departure of the year. Who mourned over the cold death bed? Who is there begrudged his departure? Alas! he was but an evil chronicle to many; and with his burthen of sins and sorrows they wished him gone.

And the gloom of death was dissipated by the radiant promise of the new comer. 1860, born with hopes and future joys for all.—How we hailed him. Lives there one whose faith has not stores of happiness in the advent of the New Year?

The profligate and prodigal will turn about on this day and syllable promises and resolutions of reform as the last harvest of time is gathered into eternity. Retrospection comes to all just now, and there may be a few who can stretch out their memories and gather a few consoling flowers where to many are only barren sands of remorse. This is the starting point, and as we set out on the race of life anew we shall all start with a new vigor and see new beauties in the course until another twelth month bring us round the circle again, and again we count up in our minds the many who have fallen by the way.

As a nation there is only one tribute that we can throw upon the grave of old '59—it is thankfulness! As individuals, we ought to gather springing buds of hope from that new grave already, and walk forth in the sunshine of another year manfully, with fresh determination and higher purposes.

Let the old year go! It takes its sorrows with it, and leaves its lessons behind. Let those who would be merry, swing their garlands in the morning of the New. It comes freighted with many blessings, and those with deserving hands will gather the most. We add, kind reader, on this morning of a new era, our salutation with those of your many friends, and wish you heartily A HAPPY NEW YEAR!

OUT AT NIGHT.—"Respice finem!" we said, midway between eleven and twelve o'clock on Saturday night, as we stepped into the street. The frozen stars winked snappishly at us, and the cold glare of the astral light fell on the snowy shroud that lay over the earth with a spectral stillness. What a rare time it was! Old night had spread so many jewels on her face you could not see 'twas black. The lake was chained, and lay like a sullen captive, pale, venting its vapory breath against the chrystalized air. Old year, where art thou? and the spirits that thronged the ether danced and skipped with the cold gusts round the corner, stirring up little spangles, and moaning a wierd monytone through the deserted aisles of the city.—"Winter sits beside thy bed, his icy fingers are against thy heart. Old Year, thou wilt go shivering into eternity."

The spirits played a suden strain of anguish on the telegraph wires. So long drawn out, and seemingly so distant, that it might have been mistaken for the wail of some doomed one, borne from another world. It stopped; and the clock of the Cathedral struck solemnly the twelve strokes of doom, measured out like the steps of a captive to the axe. Dead! And, as we pronounced the word, that strange aerial music from the repertoire of melancholy Night sounded again along the vibrating chords—and it seemed to bear the burthen of words—

> "Orphan hours, the year is dead,
> Come and sigh, come and weep."

But the merry spirits would none of it.—There was revelry in the air and the voice of winter seemed to join

> "Merry hours smile indeed,
> For the year is but asleep,
> See, it smiles as if sleeping,
> Mocking your untimely weeping."

We were standing on the threshhold of an event. Solemnly, silently, the frosty leaf of time was turned, and lo! a clean, white page is before us. Gone was the dear old witness of a thousand pleasures. Vanished were the last ghostly moments, and amid the starlight and the diamonds of bedecked old Winter the New Year is christened with pearls, and laid on the ermine of its departed mother. > "As the wild air stirs [illegible]
> The tree-swung cradle of a child,
> So the breath of these rude days
> Rocks the years:—be calm and mild,

> January gray is here,
> Like a sexton by her grave;
> February bears the bier,
> March with grief doth howl and rave;
> And April weeps—but O! ye hours!
> Follow with May's fairest flowers."

COUNCILOR HAYDEN.—We mentioned, in the Sentinel of Saturday, that Councilor E. G. HAYDEN had resigned his office, and that the branch of the Common Council to which he belonged had unanimously and very properly adopted resolutions, complimenting him for the very efficient discharge of the duties of the post to which the people of the Eighth Ward elected him last Spring. Mr. HAYDEN resigned because he was chosen as Assemblyman, last Fall, from the Fifth and Eighth Ward; and, under the City Charter, he could not hold both offices. That he will make an honest, efficient and faithful Representative, none can doubt who have watched his course in the Common Council.

That he may be re-elected Councilor next Spring, after his Legislative duties shall have been discharged, all will pray, who have the best interests of the Eighth Ward and of the City at heart.

SIBERIAN WEATHER.—Friday and Saturday were the coldest days we have experienced this winter. The mercury sank to zero early Friday afternoon, and by midnight had got twenty-five degrees below. The cold was intense, all Saturday, and up to 5 P. M. there was no prospect of an abatement.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—The Winter term of our Public Schools commences at 9 o'clock to-morrow, January 3d. Scholars desirous of securing seats for the term, must be on hand promptly, as "first come" will be "first served."

Real Estate Sales.

CITY LAND OFFICE, OGDEN & WALL,
Corner of East Water and Mich. St., Mil., Wis.

The impression generally at home and abroad, is, that there are no Real Estate operations going on; it is a great mistake, and to prove the fact to all owners and dealers in Real Estate, at home and abroad, we give the sales made in the month of November and December, 1859, of lots sold in our city, and land in Milwaukee County. They are not sales made by the foreclosure of mortgages, but are actual sales, purchased for improvement. Reference can be had at the Recorder's Office of Deeds. There is not the same noise and excitement made about sales now that there was some four or five years ago. First-class Real Estate has depreciated very little in value. All good inside property when sales are made, sell at good prices.

The lots in all new Additions at present are not in demand, but so soon as the Horse Railroad of our city is completed from Judge SMITH'S Addition in Fifth Ward, and WEEK'S Addition in Eighth Ward to WRIGHT'S Addition in Sixth Ward, there will be a general rush for lots in said Additions. Now is the time for all who have any money on hand to secure lots in the new Additions. The Horse Railroad, together with the Water Works, will be pushed ahead so soon as Spring opens and times with us will be bright. Any one having property to sell cheap or exchange the same for goods &c., we would remind them that our Mr. OGDEN is now in New York City, where he will remain for some time and will attend to negotiating all securities or any business that is in our line. All who have any business in our line will call at our office, corner of East Water and Michigan street.

ITEMS IN BRIEF.—We hear of several accidents by falling on the slippery walks. People cannot take heed enough to their steps just now.——The Board of Education in Janesville, have determined to expel any scholar from school who shall be found guilty of smoking or chewing tobacco. We presume they will be equally served with those youngsters who carry bowie-knives and sword-canes.——The Soup House, on Main street, will be opened to-day at 11 o'clock.——We have received a very learned disquisition on "The Variation of Thermometers," but could not think of publishing it until the paper is enlarged.——The Musical Society have in rehearsal the Flotow's Opera of "Martha."——Our Carrier Boys will be around to-day; they will act, we have no doubt, with a becoming address.

STEAMER MILWAUKEE.—This steamer had worked her way up the river through the ice nearly to Clark street bridge last evening at six o'clock. She makes headway by running into the ice with full force, and then backing out and taking a fresh start. She may thus be able to reach her destination without the aid of the mud digger. The ice is about eight inches thick and making very fast, the thermometer being below zero all day yesterday, with a downward tendency towards evening.

The mud digger is working its way down the South Branch slowly, having barely passed through Lake street bridge last evening at dark.—Chicago Press and Tribune of Saturday.

Clark street bridge if we are not mistaken is about a half a mile from the entrance to the river. Half a mile through ice eight inches thick! Pretty good for a "disabled" steamer.

"A FAT TAKE."—The Wisconsin of Sat[illegible] following item as to the [illegible] since the organization of the city [illegible] item of our increased taxation.

NEW-YEAR'S CALLS—TEMPERANCE THE FASHION.—We are gratified to learn that the ladies of our city are, many of them, to evince their approbation of the efforts of the Good Templars by not serving wines to their gentleman friends who call on them to-day. All honor to woman! No good cause is without her sympathy and aid. The determination is as creditable as it is effectual in promoting a noble cause.

THE BEST CRITICISM on WALT WHITMAN'S last poetic abortion is contained in the N. Y. Sunday Times. That paper publishes half of the twenty-first canto as follows:

> XXI.
> "But soft,
> Sink low—soft!
> Soft!"

And calls it an expressive auto-criticism upon the entire production.

CORRECTION.—In the article in Saturday's SENTINEL entitled "Liverpool and London Fire and Life Insurance Company," the word authenticated was printed instead of unauthenticated. We hasten to correct the error. The Company is one of the largest and best established in existence. ROBERT ELLIOT, Esq. is the representative of the Company in Milwaukee.

A DONATION PARTY will be given to Rev. Dr. COOK, Pastor of Summerfield M. E. Church, at his residence, corner of Van Buren and Biddle Streets, this (Monday) evening. It is hoped that his friends will turn out in good numbers, as we have no doubt the occasion will be a pleasant one.

THE SOUP-HOUSE.—We understand that the Soup-House will be opened at 11 o'clock this (Monday) morning. The location is the same as last year—in the basement of the frame building on Main street, next north of the house of Engine Co. No. 1.

THE POST OFFICE will be open to the public on Monday from 12 M. to 2 P. M.

THE LATEST PARIS FASHIONS.—The materials for the present season are very beautiful: the rich fabrics with flowers embroidered on taffetas antique. A new fabric is mentioned by the Parisian journals, called the velonte Imperatrice; a kind of terry velvet, but more solid and firm, and exquisitely shaded. For visiting dresses, this fabric in dark colors is very elegant. The skirts are made without flounces, and trimmed with colored velvet ornaments.

The robe Isabeau is made in this style. It is of black taffetas antique, without a join at the waist, open on the side, and trimmed round with a band of ruby velvet, which is caught together with passementerie ornaments. The sleeves are buillonnees, with a velvet cuff. A band of velvet is placed down the shoulder-seams, and to the point of the waist behind, where it is fastened with flat buttons. The skirt is trimmed to match.

Open bodies are mentioned as a novelty of the season. They are much made for home or dinner dress.

Nearly all the walking dresses are made with plain skirts, trimmed en tablier, or fastened up the front. Sometimes one plait is fastened under each arm, and two behind—Gimp trimmings for dresses are made in great and elegant varieties. Aiguillettes, buttons, bows with square ends, acorns trimmed with lace and enlivened with black beads and flat, graduated ornaments, both for bodies and skirts, are all in demand.

There is a question at present whether the Louis XIII. round hat, with long feathers, will be adopted this winter, or at latest, next summer. We cannot speak positively on this subject, so we will describe what is now actually worn. The form is large, rather open and forward on the forehead. A medium, however, should be kept, for if the front is two forward, the bonnet is wanting in grace. The curtain is moderately wide.

FIRE.—About 5 o'clock on Saturday morning a fire broke out on the premises of Mr. GEO. LUDWIG, who keeps the public garden at the head of East Water street, in the First Ward. The weather was intensely cold, the mercury marking some twenty odd degrees below zero. Nevertheless, the firemen responded promptly to the summons and hastened to the spot with their apparatus. The flames, however, had made such head way, and the engines and hose speedily became so clogged with ice, that the fire had pretty much its own way, till everything combustible was consumed. Mr. LUDWIG'S loss, including the destruction of a fine collection of plants, cannot be less than $4,000—on which he has not a cent of insurance. This is a hard blow to an industrious and worthy man. The fire is supposed to have caught from the chimney.

The alarm about 10 a. m. Saturday, proceeded from the burning embers of LUDWIG'S garden.

CITY AUCTION ROOM, Dec. 31st, 1859.

FRIENDS AND FELLOW CITIZENS:—Another year is gone, you and I have been struggling to make money the past year.—Some of us have made money and some of us have lost money. A few of our friends and citizens whom we met from day to day have passed away. We all of us that are in health this day have much to be thankful for. Although many of us have erred and done as we should not have done, let us overlook human nature and wipe out all, and forgive all, and as we enter upon the New Year of 1860 let us try and live happy lives, and encourage one another, for in a few more years we will pass away.

I am as usual in my old occupation, selling goods of all descriptions at Auction, and yet engaged in the Land Operating, and I would call your attention to the Report of sales of Real Estate made and reported by OGDEN & WALL, which appears in this morning's Sentinel. All business entrusted in my care in the way of goods will be promptly attended to, and all business in Land Operations with OGDEN & WALL will be strictly attended to. TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS, FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Grow and Branch Difficulty.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31—3 P. M.

Mr. Branch was arrested late last night on a warrant issued by Justice Dome, on the charge of being about to leave the District of Columbia, for the purpose of engaging in a hostile combat with Mr. Grow, and was held to bail in the sum of $5,000 for his appearance for further examination on Tuesday.

Mr. Grow had yesterday engaged a hackman to call at a place designated to take him and his party at three this morning, in the direction of Silver Springs, Md. The hackman did not keep the secret, and hence the arrest.

The Herald's Washington correspondence says:—Mr. Branch refrained from sending a message to Mr. Grow until after the Globe was issued, about one o'clock, evidently supposing that Mr. Grow might suppress his language.

There is a current story that shortly after the Globe was distributed in the House today, Mr. Grow received a challenge and accepted it promptly. The parties were noticed during the afternoon to be indifferent to the proceedings of the House, and were engaged in private conversation with friends and in writing letters. This strengthened the rumor.

The Police were on the alert to-night and efforts are making to arrest the principals. They have not been found at their rooms. There is reason to believe that there is some truth in the report. It is further stated that Messrs. Keitt and Pryor are the friends of Branch, and Mr. Gidding of Texas and Mr. Fenton of New York are the friends of Mr. Grow.

The Times' correspondent says: There was a challenge passed to-day from Branch to Grow, but the result is not yet known. Their mutual friends think the case one of easy adjustment.

Mr. Branch has but to say that he did not design to impugn Mr. Grow's conduct as a gentleman, but politically, as the leader of a great party. This done, Mr. Grow would be compelled to retract his offensive language and the matter would be adjusted.

This will probably be the turn which things will take, but up to a late hour tonight, the difficulty remains unsettled.

The new Charge de Affairs for Chili was presented to the Secretary of State to-day noon.

Hon. Beverly Y. Clark, Minister to Guatamala, obtained leave of absence, and will return home in the spring.

Mr. Grow was arrested this A. M., and gave bail in $5,000 to keep the peace, and not leave the District to fight a duel.

The Tribune correspondent says the new Mexican treaty will be sent in on Tuesday next. A portion of the Democrats intend resisting its confirmation on the ground that Juarez only represents a faction in Mexico, and not the government de facto. The whole Republican side will oppose its ratification.

There are rumors of an intention on the part of a large number of contractors to stop the mail service after the 1st of January, but they are only designed to hasten the organization. No such purpose is entertained.—Contracts are made for a period of 4 years, at the discretion of the government to terminate them, which is rarely done.

RETURNED FROM THE PEAK.—The company consisting of Dexter Colley, C. A. Davenport, Frank Dunbar, D. A. Kelsey, John Russell, Charles Mallory and William Moore, returned from Pike's Peak last Saturday. This company it will be remembered left this city for the gold regions in April last. They were engaged in mining about 40 miles west of Denver City. Mr. Colley informs us that they left the mines on the 5th of November, and that the weather at that time was very pleasant. On the evening of the 10th, however, after they had traveled 175 miles, the weather suddenly changed and became very cold. On searching for their mules the next morning, they found one of them in possession of two buffalo wolves, which they had some difficulty in beating off. Three of their mules and one pony froze to death, and their other mules, three in number, and two ponies, became so exhausted that they were obliged to leave them on the way, and proceed two hundred miles on foot to the Missouri River. The company suffered much from the cold, but reached home in good health and spirits. Mr. Colley states that provision was plenty in the mining region.

Mining operations had been principally suspended for this season, and about 10,000 persons, Mr. Colley thinks, will winter near the mines. Two feet of snow fell in the mountains on the 9th of November. This Company is intending to return to the mines early in the spring.—Beloit Herald, Dec. 28.

LARGE AMOUNT OF MONEY FOUND IN NEW YORK.—On Monday last an agent of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad named James Hayward, called upon Deputy Superintendent Carpenter, in New York, and handed him a large roll of money, containing several hundred dollars, which he had found on one of the cars, when near the Suspension Bridge. The money was done up in an old wallet, and was in 10s and 20s on the Canastota Bank of Madison County. The honest finder will be entitled to the entire sum, should no owner make his appearance. In the meantime it will be retained by Superintendent Carpenter.—Buffalo Republic, Dec. 28.

THE NEW YORK TIMES.
An Independent Political, Literary and Miscellaneous Newspaper.
DAILY, SEMI-WEEKLY AND WEEKLY.

THE NEW YORK TIMES is the youngest of the daily newspapers of the City of New York. The first number was issued on the 18th of September, 1851,—so that it has only just completed the eighth year of its publication. But it has already become one of the most widely known and most firmly established daily journals of the United States. Its circulation is quite as large as that of any other daily of its class in the City of New York,—and in reputation for enterprise, energy and reliability, it may fairly challenge comparison with any other newspaper in the country.

The TIMES is wholly and entirely INDEPENDENT in its discussion of all topics of public interest. It does not deny or doubt the importance or necessity of Political Parties to the proper management of public affairs,—for all experience shows that in every Constitutional Government party divisions and party contentions are essential to the preservation of public liberty, and to the vigorous and responsible conduct of the Administration. But while it does not quarrel with party organizations, it declines to be their instrument.—Party organs are sufficiently influential already. Every party and every faction, has its representatives and retained advocates in the newspaper Press. The great majority of the journals of the U. S. are directly connected with the party organizations of the country,—representing their principles and seeking the promotion of their ends, echoing their wishes, publishing news and speeches, with comments only in their interest,—and being conducted and managed merely as agents for the accomplishment of party purposes. They have, therefore, no higher authority and no stronger claim to confidence and respect than the parties they represent. As a general thing they are read mainly by that portion of the public who concur with them in opinion; and, as their statements are always more or less colored by their sentiments and wishes, they command very little attention, and still less influence, beyond the immediate circle of their own partisans.

The TIMES asserts for JOURNALISM a higher function than this. Instead of consenting to be simply the retained advocate of any political party, it claims the right to judge, fairly and dispassionately, all parties,—approving and aiding whatever in any of them may tend to the promotion of the public good, and condemning and denouncing everything in all of them which involves detriment or disaster to the country at large. Its first, great aim is to become a RELIABLE NEWSPAPER,—reporting promptly and fairly everything of public interest concerning all parties and all public men,—neither distorting nor exaggerating facts for the benefit or injury of any, but rendering equal and exact justice to all alike. It does not profess neutrality upon any political issue,—still less indifference to any great political movement,—but while it will discuss everything connected with public affairs with perfect freedom and with whatever ability it can command, it will do this, not in the interest, for the benefit, or under the control of any public man, or of any Political Party,—but solely in the interest of Truth and Justice, and for the promotion and welfare of the whole country. While upon all topics its tone will be firm, vigorous and entirely independent, it will deal in argument rather than invective, in the language of persuasion rather than menace, and will strive to allay, by all fair and just appeals, rather to increase by inflammatory counsels, the sectional agitation which disturbs the peace and threatens the welfare of the Federal Union. It will insist, always upon a faithful adherence to the Constitution, respect for the Judicial authorities of the nation, and a strict compliance with the duties and obligations which devolve upon the citizens of a common country. Upon the subject of SLAVERY, while it will never seek occasion for thrusting it upon public attention, it will not shrink from its discussion whenever it shall be brought prominently before the country, and made the theme of public controversy; but it will treat it as a local institution, the creature of local law, and subject to the exclusive supervision and control of the communities in which it exists. The TIMES will resist every attempt, and will denounce every proposition, to wage war upon it from without, or to excite the fears, wound the pride, and arouse the resentments of those States which may be disposed or obliged to permit its continued existence. But it will also oppose every endeavor to extend it into regions now free from its influence, to re-open the Slave trade with Africa, to impose the laws and the principles on which it rests upon other States, and to exact for it an undue share of influence and power in the Councils of the Confederacy. It will press upon all subjects—upon the South and upon the North—the full discharge of all their duties under the Constitution, and will resist and rebuke every attempt on the part of ultraists, in either section, to promote their own views and objects at the expense of justice and the public good.

The TIMES will discuss all topics of general interest, in every department of public action, and always in the interest of Order, the Public Peace and the general prosperity of the community. Its influence will be uniformly conservative, without neglecting any just and safe means of social and political Progress. It will seek to promote the public welfare by urging the claims of Education, Morality and Religion upon the masses of the people, and in all its discussions it will endeavor constantly to be guided and controlled by the spirit of Moderation, Patriotism and Common Sense. It seeks the confidence and respect of reflecting men of all parties, but makes no appeal to those with whom party success is the first motive of action, and the peace and welfare of the country the last.

In its CORRESPONDENCE, both Foreign and Domestic, the TIMES will not be inferior to any other American Journal. Its REPORTS of Congressional and Legislative Proceedings, of Financial, Commercial and General Intelligence, of important Legal and Criminal Trials, and of whatever may have special interest for the great body of the community, will be full, prompt and reliable.

THE SENTINEL.

DAILY, TRI-WEEKLY & WEEKLY.

RUFUS KING, EDITOR.

MONDAY MORNING, JAN. 2, 1860.

Conflicting Authorities.

MR. CHARLES O'CONNER, at the Union-saving meeting in New York, thus laid down the new Democratic doctrine of SLAVERY:

"It [Negro Slavery] is not unjust; it is just, wise, and beneficent." CHARLES O'CONNER.

This ipse dixit closes the case on the part of the Democracy. Now, on the other hand:

> "Slavery is inconsistent with the genius of Republicanism—it lessens the sense of the equal rights of mankind, and habituates us to tyranny and oppression." LUTHER MARTIN, of Md.
> "It [Slavery] is so odious that nothing can be sufficient to support it but positive law." LORD MANSFIELD.
> "It is injustice to permit Slavery to remain for a single hour." WILLIAM PITT.
> "Slavery is contrary to the fundamental law of all societies." MONTESQUIEU.
> "Slavery in all its forms, in all its degrees, is a violation of divine law, and a degradation of human nature." BRISSOT.
> "Those are men-stealers, who abduct, keep, sell, or buy slaves or freemen." GROTIUS.
> "Slavery is detrimental to virtue and industry." BEATTIE.
> "Slavery is a system of outrage and robbery." SOCRATES.
> "Slavery is a system of the most complete injustice." PLATO.
> "While men despise fraud, and loathe rapine, and abhor blood, they will reject with indignation the wild and guilty phantasy that man can hold property in man." BROUGHAM.
> "Slavery is a state so improper, so degrading, so ruinous to the feelings and capacities of human nature, that it ought not to be suffered to exist." BURKE.
> "No man is by nature the property of another." DR. JOHNSON.
> "A system (Slavery) which is not only opposed to all the principles of morality, but as it appears to me, is pregnant with appalling and inevitable danger to the Republic." BARON HUMBOLDT.
> "Every man has a property in his own person; this nobody has a right to but himself." LOCKE.
> "It perverts human reason, and induces men endowed with logical powers to maintain that Slavery is sanctioned by the Christian religion." JOHN Q. ADAMS.
> "I never would consent, and never have consented, that there should be one foot of Slave territory beyond what the old thirteen States had at the formation of the Union. Never, never!" DANIEL WEBSTER.
> "It (Slavery) ought not to be introduced, nor permitted in any of the new States." JOHN JAY.
> "Natural liberty is the gift of the beneficent Creator of the whole human race." ALEX. HAMILTON.
> "Slavery is an atrocious debasement of human nature." FRANKLIN.
> "It (Slavery) impairs our strength as a community, and poisons our morals at the fountain head." Judge GASTON, of N. C.
> "The evils of this system [Slavery] cannot be enumerated." GEORGE W. SUMMERS, of Va.
> "So long as God allows the vital current to flow through my veins, I will never, never, never, by word or thought, by mind or will, aid in submitting one rood of Free Territory to the everlasting curse of Human Bondage." HENRY CLAY.
> "Sir, I envy neither the heart nor the head of that man from the North, who rises here [in Congress] to defend Slavery from principle." JOHN RANDOLPH.
> "We have found that this evil [Slavery] has preyed upon the very vitals of this Union, and has been prejudicial to all the States in which it has existed." JAMES MONROE.
> "The abolition of domestic Slavery is the greatest object of desire in these Colonies, where it was unhappily introduced in their infant state." THOS. JEFFERSON.
> "I can only say, that there is not a man living who wishes more sincerely than I do to see a plan adopted for the abolition of it" [Slavery]. GEO. WASHINGTON.

For Mr. O'CONNER's special benefit, we introduce two other witnesses:

> "Not only does the Christian religion but nature herself cry out against the state of Slavery." POPE LEO X.
> "We further reprobate by our Apostolic authority, all the above offenses [traffic in slaves and holding them in Slavery] as utterly unworthy of the Christian name." POPE GREGORY, XVI.

We simply add, continues the N. Y. Tribune, that the Roman Catholic Church, the Greek, the Nestorian, the Church of England, the Presbyterian Church of Scotland, the Reformed Churches of France, Switzerland, and Holland; indeed the whole Protestant Church—all, except a few churches in the Southern States—now, and at all times, have deplored and denounced human bondage, as a social, moral, and political evil—either by their creeds, laws, or constitutions, or by the authoritative opinions of their most eminent divines. And yet, Mr. CHARLES O'CONNER, as the representative man of the vast multitude of the Union-saving Democracy—standing in the great commercial emporium of this great Republic—has the effrontery to proclaim (and is applauded for so proclaiming) that the system of Negro Slavery, which the united voices of the great and the good, in all ages, and which the advancing civilization of the whole of Christendom unite in denouncing as abhorrent to all law, human and divine, "is not only not unjust, but is just, wise, and beneficent." And the Pro-Slavery Democracy not only does not condemn the utterance of this abominable sentiment, but sustains and applauds it!

One of the Irrepressibles.

The Sentinel, day after day, informs its readers that the Democratic party is responsible for the agitation of the Slavery question, in and out of Congress, and more especially for John Brown's raid into Virginia.—News.

The fact is patent. The "agitation" of the Slavery question in Congress was commenced by the Democrats, in both Houses, on the very first day of the session, and has been industriously persevered in ever since. By way of adding fuel to the flame, the President, in his message, devoted nearly two columns to the subject and laid down doctrines which are utterly repugnant to the convictions and consciences of ninety-nine hundredths of the people of the Free States. JOHN BROWN's raid into Virginia was the legitimate consequence of the Border-Ruffian invasion of Kansas, which the Democracy originated, defended and encouraged.

HOW THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE WAS RECEIVED AT WASHINGTON.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune writes that: "The Message made but little sensation in Congress. The effort to get it read in the House was resisted by Mr. STANTON, (Ohio,) who, in a few words, stated the precedent in the XXXIVth Congress, which tabled it unceremoniously. Mr. COLLAMER also opposed the reading in the Senate, as against the understanding that no business should be transacted during the holidays. It was ordered read by a formal vote. As a document, it is regarded as weak and flimsy. Politically, it is considered utterly disastrous to the Democracy, by the recommendation of protection to Slavery in the Territories—which is more than leading Southern men desire, and which the Supreme Court never decided, as asserted by the President. This, and the proposed invasion of Mexico, have excited much comment, as a barefaced bid for a renomination. Mr. DOUGLAS' friends are greatly excited, as the whole movement is aimed principally against him."

THE POST OFFICE APPROPRIATION—HOW DEFEATED LAST YEAR.—The country has suffered great inconveniences, from the defeat of the bill making appropriations for the U. S. Postal service, and the republicans have been in the habit of charging the blame to democrats in Congress. It turns out, however, that Mr. Grow, a leading republican member of the House, from Pa., was solely responsible for the loss of the bill.—News, of Saturday.

So far from this being the fact, it is notorious that Senator TOOMBS, a leader of the Southern Democracy, was "solely responsible" for the defeat of the Post Office Appropriation Bill, and that he openly boasted of, and gloried in its defeat. The bill, as all know, was finally killed in the Senate, and not in the House, and Mr. TOOMBS was the chief executioner.

WESTERN RIVER STEAMBOAT DISASTERS.—The St. Louis Democrat publishes a list of the steamboat disasters on the Western rivers during the late season of navigation, from which we learn that 62 were sunk, 26 burned, and four lost by explosions. 396 lives were lost by these disasters, and $2,333,000 property lost. Of all the disasters during the year (153 in number), 46 occurred on the Ohio, 36 on the Upper Mississippi, 32 on the Lower Mississippi, 10 on the Arkansas river, and 9 on the Missouri. Only 2 occurred on the Illinois.

FIRE AT LA SALLE.—The fire last Wednesday night at La Salle, destroyed seven buildings, at a loss of about $30,000.

Physicians for the Poor.

For the Sentinel.

MR. EDITOR:—The time is approaching for the meeting of the Board of Supervisors, when some provision will be made in behalf of the indigent sick of the city and county of Milwaukee. In view of this, we beg the privilege of making a few suggestions relative to the medical care of this class of unfortunates. It will be seen that within the last few years, owing to a variety of causes growing out of the financial embarassments of the county, the number of individuals requiring the charity of the county has greatly increased; and if the last two years had not been a season of unprecedented health, the suffering from ill health and privation would have been correspondingly great. Nevertheless, there has been a great deal of complaint and dissatisfaction expressed by the poor, and those who have had an eye to their interest, in regard to the medical care which they have received from the present incumbent in office. Let it be understood, however, that we do not make this statement with the intention of charging the present medical officer of the city with any dereliction of duty, or incompetency in his profession. On the contrary, we believe this gentleman has done everything consistent with his sense of duty and humanity. But we conceive the fault may be attributed to the fact that but one physician was appointed by the Board to perform the duties of the office, which, to be properly and satisfactorily performed, would require the undivided attention of several.

Why, sir the idea of appointing but one physician to visit and prescribe for so large a class of city paupers, the majority of whom live upon the outskirts of the city, to any one at all conversant with the relation of physician to patient, is, to say the least, simply preposterous. The result of this system has been such as to compel a large portion of this class of patients to apply to almost any practitioner in the city for gratuitous services. We hazard nothing in saying that if the cases of the poor received an equal amount of attention with a similar number of their fortunate and wealthy neighbors, the public would soon ascertain that one physician would not be sufficient to furnish all the necessary requirements of labor and skill.—If our object be really to relieve suffering humanity, why should the poor be less favored than the rich?

To remedy this evil, Mr. Editor, we suggest that the city medical business be not given to one medical gentleman alone, but to as many as are actually necessary to do business for the poor satisfactorily to all.—That at least three or four English and German-speaking physicians be appointed by the Board irrespective of politics or any other subordinate considerations; and that they be chosen from among such of our city physicians that are known to be fully qualified, regardless of the distinction as to whether they are native or foreign-born, and that one or more of the Wards be appointed to each physician respectively. If the Board would adopt this system, it seems to us that the cause of poor suffering humanity might be completely and effectually subserved.

A FRIEND TO THE POOR.

The Mount Vernon Fund.

Miss CUNNINGHAM, the Regent of the Mt. Vernon Association, makes the following statement:

You are already aware that $18,000 was paid on the 6th of April, 1858, when the contract for Mount Vernon was signed by the contracting parties. The first bond of $57,000, due on the 1st of January, 1859, was paid on the 2d of December, 1858. The payment of the second bond of $41,666, due on 22d February, 1860, was anticipated on 22d February, 1859. The third bond of $41,666, due 22d February, 1861, was anticipated on the 23d March, 1859, leaving to be cancelled only the fourth bond of $41,666, due 22d February, 1862. On this, $35,000 has been already advanced, leaving a balance of indebtedness of $6,666, with interest on the bond from 6th April, 1858. Thus, $193,334 has been paid towards the liquidation of the debt of $200,000 assumed by the association. The interest on the three bonds, amounting to $6,601; making the whole amount paid over to Mr. Washington, including principal and interest, $199,924.

Mr. Geo. W. Riggs, our Treasurer, to whom the association is deeply indebted for the zeal and devotion with which he has rendered his voluntary services, reports investments of $5,000 in United States Treasury notes; $10,000 in State of Virginia bonds; thirteen shares of stock of C. R. R. and Banking Co. of Georgia, four shares of stock of Farmers' Bank of Virginia, and cash in hand $2,623, amounting to $19,328; to which must be added sums on deposit, yielding interest in various States to the amount of $8,947, besides some $4,000 reported as collected, but not paid for. Thus the whole amount collected over and above expenditures necessarily incurred for repairs now going on at Mount Vernon, and in the management of so vast an enterprise, is $232,206. The enterprise is indebted the untiring exertions of the noble Everett for more than one-fourth, $69,004 of this large sum, as follows:

Amount received from oration	$50,643 43
From New York Ledger and connexion	12,004 51
From donations	1,000 18
From ladies	20 00
Increase of interest	5,351 60
	$69,004 77

The Regent further states that it is necessary yet to raise the sum of $120,000 in order to provide a permanent fund, the interest of which will be expended in keeping the estate in repair, and in providing a force sufficient to protect and preserve the house and grounds in security, enforce order, &c.

MATTERS ABOUT THE CAPITOL.—Governor Randall is absent on an official visit to Waupun to inspect the condition of the State Prison, and will return to-day or to-morrow.

Mr. Howe, the Attorney General elect, has been in the city for a day or two.

Mr. Van Steenwyk, the Bank Comptroller, with his Deputy, Mr. McGregor, is here, engaged in settling up the affairs of the office with Mr. Squires.

Mr. Harvey, the Secretary of State elect, was here the first of the week, but has returned to Rock County. He is expected back to-morrow.

There will be no formal celebration of the inauguration of the new State Officers, as was at one time suggested. They will all be present here on Monday, we understand, and will be escorted to the Capitol at about 12 o'clock, M., by the Governor's Guard and the Madison Guard. The oath of office will be administered in the Assembly Chamber, immediately upon their arrival there, by one of the Judges of the Supreme Court. In the evening the Capitol will be illuminated, and the new State officers will be at the Assembly Hall to receive such of the people as may choose to call upon them. A band of music will be present, and after the reception, dancing will be in order. While there will be no particular formality or parade, we don't see why a pleasant social occasion may not be confidently expected. Doubtless, a number of visitors from abroad will be present and we presume the Madisonians will not be lacking in attentions to them. We should think that at least Milwaukee, Waukesha, Janesville, Whitewater and Watertown, might be represented on the occasion.—Madison Journal, Dec. 30.

THE NEW REGIME.—The "note of preparation" had been already sounded, when we were at Madison last week, for an entirely new corps of officials in the State offices. We understand it to be the intention of the incoming officers to reduce as far as possible the expense of managing the departments. "New brooms sweep clean." We shall be happy to hear of and to give credit for any reforms in carrying on the State Government, so far as it can be done without lessening its efficiency.

Among the new names mentioned for clerks are those of John P. McGregor, of Portage City, who will go into the Bank Department with Mr. Van Steenwyk, and Mr. C. L. Sholes, as Auditing Clerk in the Secretary's Office. These are good names. We hear that it is likely Mr. J. O. Culver, of Milwaukee, will have the appointment of Deputy Attorney General. A more appropriate selection could not have been made. He is a young man of fine talent. From this place, Mr. C. R. Tyler will go into the School Land Office. He is a gentleman in all respects, and will make an efficient and popular officer.

Whatever corruptions are carried on at Madison during the ensuing term, it is a pleasure to reflect that Green Bay will come out unscathed. The three gentlemen which she sends there—Attorney General Howe, Charley Tyler, and Assemblyman Neville, are members of Pochequet Yacht Club, of Green Bay—a fact sufficient of itself to guarantee entire honesty. Nuf ced.—Green Bay Advocate, Dec. 29.

Opening an Ancient Mound near Madison, Wisconsin.

[Report by I. A. Lapham, Esq., to the American Ethnological Society.]

Travellers approaching the beautiful city of Madison, the capital of the young State of Wisconsin, by the Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad, from the East, are conveyed across one of the lakes that give so much interest to this charming locality. Looking towards the South, they will find the lake bounded by a ridge of considerable elevation the crest of which is serrated by a series of ancient monuments of earthwork, the mysteries of whose origin and nature have not yet been fully found out. Their sharp outline, projected against the sky for a background, with the scattered trees and shrubs, all reflect in the clear still water of the lake, render this spot quite conspicuous and beautiful.

Of this remarkable ridge, which divides the waters of lake Monona (the third of the series) from lake Wingra, with its ancient earthworks, a sketch (Fig. 1.) and a plot (Fig. 2.) are given on plate 2. The slopes were steep, especially on the south side; the crest narrow, the soil a loose gravel, (drift of the geologists,) but slightly compacted with clay or other material. At the highest point, where the two largest mounds are situated, it has an elevation quite abrupt, of seventy-five feet, upon which the mounds make an addition of ten feet. In some parts, the ridge is covered with groves of small trees, at others it is naked.

By invitation of Geo. P. Delaplaine, Esq., of Madison, I visited that place on the 1st of June, 1859, in company with Prof. J. D. Whitney, the Geologist, for the purpose of making a survey and exploration of the interesting group of mounds, before they should become lost by the progress of "improvement" in that direction. Already some of them have been injured by the opening of roads, and by the idle curiosity of persons who have made slight excavations. It would be fortunate if other landed proprietors would follow the good example of Mr. Delaplaine, and preserve an accurate record of such ancient works as they are about to destroy. Many very interesting animal effigies, (mounds in the forms of animals,) have already been levelled by the plough, or otherwise injured or effaced.

The peculiar form of this ridge, the nature of the soil, and its position between two valleys, exposing it to the drying effect of the winds, render it peculiarly fitted for the preservation of anything that may have been buried under the mounds. The steep slopes fall away from the base of the mounds on either side, thus carrying off immediately the falling rain. The earth composing the mound was of fine material, well compacted, and still further protected by a dense sod of prairie grass and weeds; so that very little water could penetrate it; and the depth was such as to exclude all the destroying effects of frost in winter. We were therefore convinced that, if any of the original mound-builders are anywhere preserved, we might look for them here; and in this we were not disappointed.

These mounds, as is usual in such groups in Wisconsin, present a variety of forms—among them the circular, oblong, attenuated and animal-shaped. They are situated on the north-west quarter of section twenty-six, in township seven, and range nine of the government surveys. From the top of these mounds there is a very fine and extensive view of the country around, suggesting at once the idea that this may have been a sort of look-out station or sentry post from which to watch the approach of the enemy.

The largest mound on this ridge, the one excavated by us, has an oval form, the basal dimensions being seventy and fifty feet; the height ten feet. It was built upon the convex surface of the ridge, so that the depth of the mound in the middle was a little less than appeared from the outside. The exploration was commenced on the south-east side by running a horizontal drift from the base towards the centre. This brought us a little below the original surface.

Our first discovery was the remains of a human skeleton that had been buried about three feet below the top of the mound. The position of this skeleton was horizontal, the head towards the west. The bones were very much decayed, the teeth and a few of the larger bones being all that were sufficiently strong to be taken out. At the foot was the skull of a skunk, and also a few teeth, and a portion of the jaw of another animal, apparently a fox. Whether these had been buried with the human body, or had burrowed into the mound on their own account is not easily determined, though the latter supposition is rendered probable by the good state of preservation of the skull of the skunk.

This skeleton was doubtless buried in the mound, since the original construction, as is often done by the Indian tribes. Its decayed condition was owing to its position near the surface, rather than to its great age. It is on this account that skulls taken from mounds are not to be regarded as those of the ancient mound-builders; for they may have been buried within the recollection of the present inhabitants.

It is rarely that the original deposite can be found sufficiently firm for preservation. It is only under the most favorable circumstances that we can hope to secure even the skull of one of the real mound-builders.

As we descended into the mound, the extreme firmness and dryness of the loamy material became apparent, giving strength to our conjecture and hope that a real mound-builder was about to be brought to light; and we wished for some magic power by which he could be re-endowed with the faculty of speech, that he might reveal the story of his strange and unknown history!

Our work was temporarily arrested by the high wind, which swept with full force over the ridge, and kept the opening we had made involved in a cloud of fine dust, rendering it almost impracticable to breathe while making the excavation. The earth thrown out was quite dry, and in much indurated masses or clods, though the spring rains had hardly ceased. The material of the mound was mostly the dark colored soil of the prairie, showing that the surface only had been taken to construct it. At one place, there was a slight layer of gravel, as if a small quantity of that material had been used when the work had reached that point.

Under the middle of the mound we found the object of greatest interest. An excavation had been made in the original ground, the bottom of which was paved with rounded stones, imbedded in clay. Upon the pavement was placed the body of a man, in a horizontal position, the head towards the east, the legs and arms folded back. The skeleton was in a very good state of preservation, most of the bones being found, including many of the smaller ones. The skull was nearly entire, but had been crushed and distorted by the pressure of the superincumbent earth.

As this was clearly a skeleton of one of the honored dead, over whose remains, and for whose memory, the mound was erected, with so much care and labor, all material facts in relation to it will be of interest; and accordingly I have endeavored to reconstruct the skull from the separate parts preserved, and have made the drawing on plate 1, figure 1. Upon a careful comparison with the numerous figures in Morton's Crania Americana, it will be found that it agrees, in general contour and size, most nearly with that on plate 28, representing the Chippewa. Though it would be wrong, perhaps, to infer, upon such slight evidence, that the ancient mound-builders of Wisconsin were the ancestors of the Chippewas, yet we may regard it as further proof that they were one and the same with the American race, as first clearly indicated by Dr. Morton. ("Crania Am.," p. 229.)

About two feet above the skeleton, we found a few fragments of a human skull, but no traces of other bones. They had, doubtless, been casually thrown upon the mound during the progress of its construction.

Very near the skull was found a grey flint arrow-head, and a bone, apparently of a bird, which had been wrought into an implement of some important use, no doubt, to those who made it.

Occasionally, fragments of bones, and pieces of charcoal, were found at various depths, but no indication of the burning of human or other sacrifices. Roots of trees or shrubs had penetrated to the very bottom of the mound. While the work was in progress we were visited by numerous citizens of Madison, and by the Officers and Students of the Wisconsin State University, many of whom manifested a deep interest in the subject of American Antiquities.

Besides the mounds referred to in this paper there are numbers of others in the vicinity of the "Four Lakes," many of them quite interesting on account of their peculiar forms &c. A few of them are described and figured in the 6th volume of the Smithsonian Contributions to Knowledge. It is hoped that provision will be made by law, for the preservation of at least such as happen to be on the grounds selected for the site of the State Lunatic Asylum and other public institutions.

Special Notices.

Dyspepsia! Dyspepsia! Dyspepsia!!!
What is it? How Cured?

DYSPEPSIA IS OUR NATIONAL DISease—weak stomach, feeble digestion, distress after eating, costive habits, bilious condition. How many suffer with it and its attendant symptoms of low spirits, bad taste, coated tongue, obstupified head, and attacks of the headache! Yet how few know how to cure it! Generally, because the bowels are constipated, resort is had to cathartics, or laxatives. But such a condition was never cured by cathartics, whose only office is to weaken the digestion and impair the integrity of the entire assimilative system.

But HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC DYSPEPSIA PILLS—a simple medicated sugar pill—have cured hundreds of the worst and most obstinate cases.—This is done simply by improving the tone and restoring the integrity of the digestive organs, from which result good appetite, regular habits, a clear head, and buoyant spirits. Such a medicine is a gem, and only requires to be known to be appreciated.

Price 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.

N. B.—A full set of HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS, with Book of Directions, and twenty remedies, in large vials, and morocco case, $5; do, in plain case, $4. Family case of fifteen boxes and book, $2.

These remedies, by the single box or case, are sent by mail or express, free of charge, to any address, on receipt of the price. Address,

The Danger of Taking your Wife to the Opera in Paris.

Paris Correspondence of the N. Y. Times.

The aristocratic world has had a fruitful subject of conversation for two days past, in a much to be regretted encounter which took place on Monday evening last at the grand opera, between two gentlemen of the highest standing in society. I happened to be one of the half a dozen witnesses to this scene, and although the circumstance in itself was most unfortunate, and was entirely the result of one of those sudden bursts of passion to which all men are sometimes subject, yet the conduct of each was so gallant in the affair, that there can be no indiscretion in mentioning here the details. During the intervals between the acts, a gentleman who sat next to me in the orchestra stalls, as well as many other persons in the house, looked more or less at a very handsome young lady seated in the private box at the side of and on a level with the orchestra seats. With the young lady was her husband, her father and mother, her brother and another gentleman. The husband took offence at what he deemed the too frequent use of the lorgnette by the gentleman already referred to, in view of the close proximity of the latter to the box, so that when, at the second fall of the curtain, this gentleman went out into the narrow lobby behind the boxes, he was there interrupted by the husband of the young lady, who had come out of the box for that purpose.

"Why do you gaze, sir, so persistently at my wife?" said the husband.

"I did not gaze at your wife, sir, more persistently than one is permitted to gaze at any lady in a theatre," replied the other.

"but at that distance it is not proper (convenable was the word used) to gaze as you did at a lady."

"Do you pretend to say, sir that I was not convenable towards your wife?"

"I do."

No sooner were these words uttered than the husband received in the face a tremendous blow from the hand of the other, and then a scuffle ensued in which several blows were passed; the gentleman which struck the first blow received one which drew blood—The brother of the young lady, who had come out of the box, rushed in to separate the combatants, and M. de Villemessent, editor of Figaro, who happened to be in the corridor at the moment, assisted in separating them. Once separated, the husband said:

"You will give me satisfaction for this, Sir; I will give you my card."

"Most certainly;" said the other; I am the Count de Lauriston."

"Then I need not give you my card," said the husband, "I am the Marquis de Gallifet."

"Very well," said the Count. "This is the first time in my life that I was ever charged with a want of politeness; it is too serious a charge for a man of my name and rank to permit to go unpunished, and I am going to kill you, Sir; I relaxed for one man in my life, but I shall not do it this time; I shall kill you, Sir!"

"We shall see!" said the Marquis, and then both gentlemen resumed their seats and sat the play out as quietly as if nothing had occurred.

The Count de Lauriston is forty-five or fifty years of age, and is well known in French society as a high toned and chivalric man, and as a man not likely to let his name suffer for want of courage. He is a large and vigorous man, has already had affairs of honor, and is considered a most dangerous antagonist. It was he that built the fine palace on the Champs Elysees, now owned by the Empress.

The Marquis of Gallifet is a young man under thirty, and is short and slim in person. He, too, has had affairs of honor, the last of which was with Mr. Charles Astor Bristed, of New York, at Baden-Baden last summer. He is a lieutenant in the Chasseurs d'Afrique and was decorated by the Emperor, for his brave and gallant conduct during the late campaign in Italy. At the battle of Solferino, as I have already had occasion to tell you, he accomplished feats of daring in presence of the enemy which placed him in the ranks of the dare-devils of the army. He was married only three weeks ago to the daughter of the millionaire banker, Laffitte, a most charming young person of eighteen years, and it was the family of Laffitte who were in the box with M. de Gallifet at the moment of the encounter at the opera.

One can easily imagine the feelings of the young bride on this unfortunate occurrence. But a blow, in this country, cannot pass without a hostile meeting, more especially if the man who receives it is an officer in the army; and accordingly the parties met yesterday morning, in the environs of the city, and fought with small swords. Both men fought with great determination and skill.—The Count received a slight wound, and then ran the Marquis through the shoulder, inflicting so dangerous a wound that, although the two adversaries wished to continue the combat, the seconds thought it prudent to put an end to it, by declaring the honor of both parties satisfied. The wound of M. de Gallifet, although not mortal, is yet a severe one, that will require several weeks of careful nursing.

Sands' Pale Cream Ale.

HAVING RECENTLY PURCHASED the Spring Brewery, on Eighth and Chestnut streets, with the view of making the above mentioned beverage in Milwaukee, I would respectfully solicit the patronage of the people and those Saloons and Restaurants that desire to keep a prime Ale on draught for their patrons.

To those who are familiar with Sands' Chicago Pale Cream Ale, I need say nothing as to its quality; to those who are not, I would simply ask a trial, and I pledge myself to my patrons to do all in my power to make Sands' Pale Cream Ale as popular a beverage in Milwaukee and vicinity as it is in Chicago and surrounding country, and I trust by the assistance of lovers of good Ale, to give Sands' Milwaukee Pale Cream and Amber Ale a reputation second to none in the West.

Saloons and Families in city or country supplied by the barrel, half-barrel or case, or in bottles. Also Porter bottled or in casks of any size. Orders by mail or otherwise promptly attended to. Price List sent by mail on application.

Richardson's Irish Linens, Damaks,

DIAPERS, &C.—CONSUMERS OF RICHARDSON'S LINENS, and those desirous of obtaining the GENUINE GOODS, should see that the articles they purchase are sealed with the full name of the firm, J. N. RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN, as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods.

This caution is rendered essentially necessary, as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared, season after season and sealed with the name of RICHARDSON, by Irish Houses, who, regardless of the injury thus inflicted alike on the American consumer and the manufacturers of the genuine Goods, will not readily abandon a business so profitable, while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.

BININGER'S OLD LONDON DOCK GIN.

A. M. BININGER & CO.,
(ESTABLISHED 1778.)
SOLE IMPORTERS,
No. 338 Broad Street, New York.

THIS DELICIOUS TONIC, ESPECIALLY for the use of the Medical Profession and the Family,

Possesses those INTRINSIC medicinal properties, [Tonic and Diuretic] which belong to an OLD AND PURE GIN.

The business of manufacturing spurious Gins, and offering them as beverages, under the titles, "Aromatic," "Cordial," "Medicated," &c., has become so common that the public are justly suspicious of nearly everything that is offered under similar forms, and the trade has thus been brought into disrepute. It has remained for our house (established in 1778) to supply the pressing popular need, and to inaugurate a new era in the history of the Trade. We trust that our, established reputation—founded upon eighty years of experience—abundantly vindicates our claim to public confidence.

N. B.

A comparison of "Bininger's Old London Dock Gin" with others bearing similar names, will establish its superiority, and make other Caution unnecessary.

THE GREAT WONDER
Of the Nineteenth Century,
PROFESSOR WOOD'S
HAIR RESTORATIVE.

SAYS THE ST. LOUIS, (MO.) DEMOCRAT: "Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press."

BATH, MAINE, Jan. 20, 1858.

Professor O. J. Wood & Co.

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty-five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty-two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly, yours, A. C. RAYMOND.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE. Baltimore, Jan. 23, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure. FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally loved. WM. DYER.

Brookfield, January 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made a trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit. Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion and retails for $3 a bottle.

MONTREAL, DEC. 30TH.—Flour—Fair demand for bakers and dealers at $5.15@5.20 in small parcels for good No. 1 superfine; $5.40 for fancy; $5.80@6,00 for extras. No inclination on the part of speculators to buy largely of No. 1 at over 5@5.10.

Nothing to report in grain.

PORK AND PROVISION TRADE.

Dressed hogs were higher, some 10 to 15c, heavy averages bringing $5,90 to $6,00. Receipts for the 24 hours ending noon to-day amount to 546, and for the season, including 576 received by the M. & C. R. R. during the week and not reported until to-day, to 44,154 head.

The Gazette has the following remarks in regard to Thursday's market, the 29th:

The course of the pork market to-day was a surprise to dealers generally. The evidences of weakness observable yesterday and the day before led to the belief that under heavy receipts a decline might be looked for. But notwithstanding the liberal arrival to-day—12,000 head—the market was stronger, and prices of good hogs were slightly in favor of sellers, closing at $6 to for 180@195 lbs, averages, $6 15@6 30, for 200 to 250 lbs and $6,40@6,50 for extra heavy. A lot of 90 head averaging 290 lbs sold at $6,50. The heavy receipts caused some uneasiness, but there seemed to be buyers for all the hogs that were offered at the quotations. It is to be remarked, however, that sellers, in many cases, apprehending a break down, when they saw the report of arrivals, retired for the day. This withdrawal of stock had something to do in sustaining prices; but to the good demand that prevailed for products, the firmness is mainly attributable. At a shade below current rates for mess pork, cut meats and lard a large amount of stuff would be taken, and even at prevailing prices there is a fair demand, chiefly from the East. About 500 bbls mess pork sold at $16; 250 tierces bulk meats at 6c for shoulders, and 7½@7¾ for sides, all packed; 300 bbls and tierces at 7½c. There were also sales for future delivery of 500 bbls mess pork, for March 1st, at $17; 300,000 lbs bulk, shoulders and sides, deliverable from 5th to 28th of February, at 6@8c. First class brands of pork, on the spot, were not to be had at any extent, at $16. Lard, at close, was held firmly at 10c, with an active demand at 9¾c, and some buyers at 9⅞c, and sellers were not disposed to entertain offers of less than 6@8c for shoulders and sides on the spot. Green shoulders and sides were also firmer than yesterday, closing at 5c for shoulders, and 6½@7c for sides. Hams were 7½@7¾c, with a sale of 2,000 city cut late in the afternoon at 7½c.

Medical.

THE GREATEST
DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.

MR. KENNEDY, OF ROXBURY, HAS discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures

EVERY KIND OF HUMOR, FROM
THE WORST SCROFULA DOWN TO A COMMON PIMPLE.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, both thunder humor. He has now in his possession over one hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will cure the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

Three or five bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of Erysipelas.

One or two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three or four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

ROXBURY, Mass.

DEAR MADAM:—The reputation of the Medical Discovery, in curing all kinds of humors, is so well established, by the unanimous voice of all who have ever used it, that I need not say anything on the subject, as the most skillful physician and the most careful druggists in the country are unanimous in its praise.

In presenting the Medical Discovery to your notice, I do it with a full knowledge of its curative powers, in relieving all, and curing most of the diseases to which you are unfortunately so liable. That most excruciating disease to an affectionate mother, is cured as if by a miracle; your own temper is restored to its natural sweetness, and your babe from short and fretful naps to calm and sweet slumbers; and the Medical Discovery becomes a fountain of blessings to your husband and household.

NURSING SORE MOUTH,

In the more advanced stage of

it extends to the stomach, causing

DYSPEPSIA

which is nothing but canker on the stomach; then on the intestines and creating a sinking, gone feeling, and an indifference even to the cares of your family.

Your stomach is

RAW AND INFLAMED,

your food distresses you, and you can only take certain kinds, and even of that your system does not get half the nourishment it contains, as the acrimonious fluid of the canker eats it up; then your complexion loses its bloom and becomes sallow or greenish, and your best day is gone. For want of nourishment your system becomes loose and flabby, and the fibres of your body become relaxed. Then follows a train of diseases which the Medical Discovery is peculiarly adapted to

CURE;

Palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, weakness of the spine and small of the back, pain of the hip-joint when you retire, irregularity of the bowels, and also that most excruciating of diseases the

PILES.

How many thousands of poor women are suffering from this disease and pining away a miserable life, and their next door neighbor does not know the cause. I wish to impress on your mind that good old proverb, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." In the

you have both the preventive and the cure, with this great and good quality, that it will never, under any circumstances, do you an injury.
